Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 19 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy through the weekend with a chance of drizzle.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloud returning to all areas through the evening and persisting overnight, although a few clear spells are possible during in the early hours. Light winds with a chance of drizzle in some areas. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
Rather cloudy with any bright spells confined mostly to the northeast in the afternoon. A slight chance of drizzle remains. Turning breezy overnight. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Staying cloudy on Sunday with a risk of light rain or drizzle. Mostly dry on Monday and Tuesday but still cloudy. Feeling mild throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.